Aphonopelma paloma

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Aphonopelma paloma, or the Paloma dwarf, is a species of spider belonging to the family Theraphosidae.

Distribution and habitat   [edit source]

The Paloma dwarf can be found in Southern Arizona, but require meticulous surveying to spot. This is not only due to their small size, as the entrances of their burrows are usually only 5–10 mm in width.<sup>[1]</sup>
